The Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD; French: Organisation de coopération et de développement économiques, OCDE) is an intergovernmental economic organisation with 36 member countries, founded in 1961 to stimulate economic progress and world trade. It is a forum of countries describing themselves as committed to democracy and the market economy, providing a ...International relations (IR) is a branch of political science, that deals with foreign affairs and global issues among the states within the international system, including the roles of states, intergovernmental organizations, non-governmental organizations (NGOs) and multinational corporations. To begin, defining an energy subsidy can be fraught with difficulty. The World Trade Organization defines a subsidy as “a financial contribution by a government, or agent of a government, that confers a benefit on its recipients” (Kojima and Koplow, 2015). The United Nations and International Energy Agency define an energy subsidy as “any measure that keeps prices for consumers below ... The economy of Poland is the eighth largest economy in the European Union and the largest among the former Eastern Bloc members of the European Union. Since 1990 Poland has pursued a policy of economic liberalization and its economy was the only one in the EU to avoid a recession through the 2007-2008 economic downturn. In all, as of 2017 the Polish economy has been growing steadily for the ... - Imf Economic Reviews 2 1994: Trade Policy Reform In The Countries Of The Former Soviet Union (imf Economic Reviews)
