Having just announced my first PAL Awards (Play Advances Language), recognizing toys, games and books that encourage language, I wanted to share why I am so passionate about promoting children's language. Early language proficiency correlates with later performance in school—reading, writing, and critical thinking skills—and influences emotional, cognitive and social growth. Please choose a language below or you will be automatically redirected to our new website in 24 seconds. #1 Parent-Recommended Brand for Creativity & Learning. Trusted by more than 60 million moms and dads around the world, our award-winning toys are designed to spark imagination and wonder! Home. We have developed this cyber store to bring you the best in educational childrens toys, from NZ and around the world. Because quality and safety is a priority, we opt to import a large range of product from European suppliers, and world recognised companies. - New Language Of Toys
